If you loved me you would’ve gotten in the car and had the conversation with me if you loved me you would’ve answered the phone and been like sorry babe I didn’t realize. If you loved me you would’ve chased after me when I pulled out of the driveway. If you loved me you would’ve let me in your house to have the conversation in there. If you loved me you wouldn’t record me at my most vulnerable. If you loved me you would’ve laughed in my face when I was telling you how I felt. If you loved me you would give the effort to change. You have to love me enough to change for me. You wouldn’t talk to somebody you love like this. Especially after all you’ve done to me. The bad outweighs the good, even though we have really good days we have more really bad days. It’s really sad because yesterday I thought we were changing for the good and I had a really good time with you yesterday. All you had to do was answer the phone and say I’m sorry babe I didn’t realize you were calling but instead you escalate the situation. You care more about yourself than me. You would rather hide behind your mother and brother then face your problems. You can’t push your problem to the side forever because it’s just going to keep building up. You can’t say I haven’t changed because I’ve been trying so fucking hard to try to make this relationship better but it’s really hard when you treat me like shit almost every day and always ignore me or give excuses of why you couldn’t answer the phone it’s an every day thing and it’s not healthy. I shouldn’t have to give you 1 million chances to fix the problem you should want to fix this problem to grow together and be better together. It feels like you’re only keeping me around because I know too much. And honestly the fact that you recorded me during my most vulnerable moment was a stab in my fucking heart I never thought you would do that again to me you haven’t done that since freshman year that shit fucking hurt. I don’t think you’ve ever chased after me to stop me from leaving. You always let me leave. you have never tried super hard to keep me happy or reassure me that I’m the only one. I’m telling you how I feel hopefully to change for the better off not so you can laugh in my face and make fun of me. I don’t know why you don’t listen when I tell you it’s your last chance because I am serious when I say that you only care when it’s too late and you’ve realized what you’re missing out on. You wouldn’t be where you are today without me and the fact that you just treat me like this is so fucking heartbreaking. What’s even more sad is you’re probably going to only read half of this and ignore the rest and only reply to like one thing about this you just don’t care about me and only hold on to me because of the time we’ve had together there’s no love in this relationship at least from your side. I’m even thinking about all the times you’ve let me go to sleep upset with you or sad you just don’t care enough. As much as I want this to work the recording me and laughing at me while I was at my lowest is one of the fucking worst things a human that’s supposed to be your best friend and your soulmate can do to you I didn’t think you could break my heart again after you cheated on me but I guess today happened and proved myself wrong because I haven’t felt this way since you did that. Would also hurts is the fact that you’re texting me asking if you should MoveOn are you seriously thinking about meeting new people already? that just proves that this relationship was nothing to you and you were just keeping me as investment instead of a lover or a partner. I just don’t understand how someone can be with someone for three years and just not want to try anymore or change like do you truly wanna be with me did you even want this relationship to work out?????

I honestly could give two fucks like you can't even communicate what you don't like going on in the relationship and then you decide to like shove it under the rug and bring it up when we're in a relationship maybe our relationship would work a little bit better if you were just verbalize how you feel when it's happening instead of pushing it under the rug like you have to do every single second of your life

That’s fine, I tried forming connections with you and tried my hardest to show that I clearly cared about you. But you painting me to be the problem when it’s likely on your end is something I do not appreciate. You are playing victim when you actively displayed me being in a vulnerable moment especially with my mental health issues. I understand I can be slightly quick with my emotions. And that was impulsivity. But it was me showing a normal human trait that most (let’s be honest) people share if put in a situation that makes them uncomfortable (hence you taking me to a place where people could hear). Made me feel like I was under attack and in the spotlight. That clearly bothered me but instead of you acting mature you decided to take a video of me in an obviously vulnerable moment. But if I constantly address those triggers and you refuse to acknowledge them or accommodate. Then that is on you. You are very absent and if you’re my boyfriend i expect you to at least respond to my texts. And that could be a simple “yeah” but you acted like I never existed and that really bothered me.

You're only spiraling out of control is because I broke up with you you havnt apologized you haven't even tried to make any of this better and now that I've told you that you needed to apologize your apology is now going to mean nothing to me because it's taking you all this time to even formulate anything you just keep spewing things that don't matter and you have a reason for everything or an excuse for everything and I don't give a fuck it doesn't matter nothing is ever going to change with you

My only fault is not being patient in response time I could think of a big list of things that you have done as your “reaction” and obviously I’m going to get annoyed or sused out Because you physically cannot look me in the eyes and tell me that you’re not cheating on me you can’t reassure me and you’ve cheated on me multiple times I don’t care about how long ago it was trauma stays with you and you can’t tell me that you’re not cheating on me

I’m resorting to threats because my feelings are being dismissed my feelings are not being acknowledged that is the only way I’m heard when I’m threatening it doesn’t make it right but if you were just understand and listen to what I have to say originally there would never be threats. You act like I like threatening people

No that is called cheating. You cheated on me after three years of a relationship. I told you if you ever cheat on me again I am fucking done and you cheated on me last night. Liking pictures and asking a female that is my friend to hang out is a complete different story. I appreciate her for telling me because if she didn’t who knows what would’ve happened. I’m all done here. I need somebody that’s going to treat me like the goddess I am you should be embarrassed.

Yep I would never be there for somebody who could cheat on me that easily so you're right about that! Stop trying to clear your conscious you're always going to be a cheater in my eyes and everybody that I have told so far

You're right I won't believe you because you're only doing it to clear your consciousness maybe if you just like you did it yesterday the 45 times that I asked you and you avoided my question this would've worked out so much better but you decided to cheat on me instead

I want to be with you But could never trust you. You keep showing yourself as a cheated nothing you're saying is even meaning anything to me because if you really felt this way you would've said all this to me days ago and you wouldn't have done the Emily thing. And the fact that you're trying to justify what you did is making things so much fucking worse

I'm going to give you one last chance and when I say this I know I've said it 1 million times but this is actually the final fucking straw I better not get any weird fucking vibes from you and I better be reassured multiple times a day that I am loved and you are not going to cheat on me we have to connect on a fucking deeper level than what we are right now you can't just do what you're doing. If you put a Band-Aid on the situation it's only gonna get worse over time. I can be more patient with my anger and response time. You're going to need to do a lot more fucking work than me in this part though you fucked up so bad. It's gonna take a lot more work than you think.

i find it odd to that he texted me and that like the day before he followed me on Instagram which was odd because I've always followed him so I wasn't like I went and followed him that day like I have followed him like for over a year so like it was odd and like he don't know me At all like what if I were to say yes then what would he have done like, I feel like he's just backing himself up just so he doesn't look stupid he's just saying that he knew I would say no because he doesn't want u leaving him but either way I would say no because I love my ej

No you think that's how I feel somebody that loves me would never cheat on me or make me feel the way that you make me feel a relationship should always be fun and loving there shouldn't be this much tension and anger in a relationship obviously I'm not going to be able to stop thinking about what you did it doesn't matter what I did first or what do you think I did you still did some thing so much worse and it's just not fair or forgettable. You know I care about your mom and what's going on but I can't just let you treat me this way. Nothing you can say is going to make me feel better about the situation. You are causing this emotional stress on yourself I was telling you how I feel. Then you started freaking out and spit on me so I left of course I did it let you hug me why would I let you hug me after you just talked to me like that. I wanted to be there for you too but when you make me feel like shit I have to leave

If you just want it to stop then be better and make the change because you're the only one making yourself feel that way you control your emotions and how you feel. I'm done letting you make me feel any type of way because you've just used to be like a fucking ragdoll this whole relationship yes you do nice things for me and you buy me things but it's more than that I need affirmations from you and I need to feel loved and I need to trust and there's nothing coming from you I didn't feel any love from you when I came over today it just felt blank

I wouldnt try to stay up just relax and you'll probably get some sleep and not even know it u havent been smoking weed so your body isn't getting as much deep sleep which is ok but it's probably making u feel like ur not sleeping but ur just getting a lot of rem sleep which is very beneficial its just the more conscious state of sleeping
